If the Dressmakers

Of this city don't get the biggest rush of business this fall that they have ever had, it will be for the reason that other Wheeling stores are not selling as many dress materials as this one! Busy as bees here from morning till night, cutting off SILKS and DRESS GOODS, which for choiceness and variety, we are led to believe, have no equals—our best previous efforts are eclipsed by the present showing.

Prices? Well, we cannot afford to charge one penny too much, that's certain.

Take the Plaid Class,

For instance. Great is the demand for these, and greater still the showing. Quite a craze for reversible plaids that show of Scotchness, and Wheeling women are not a day behind New Yorkers in their appreciation of these jaunty materials. Are particularly effective made up into skirts to be worn with either plain silk or French flannel waists. Twenty? Yes, forty kinds of plaids to pick from—the heavier ones for Golf, Capes,

50c to $3.00 yd.

We Said Plain Silks

And French Flannel to wear with plaid skirts, but there are other classes here which have an equally strong following. Allude to the plainer fabrics, which are woven from many different kinds of yarns, to produce those dreamy effects worn by women of fashion. Just as many—and more—of this kind here from which to do your choosing.

50c to $3.75 yd.

Fancy Silks

For Waists. These are here in immense variety, many of them differing materially from those worn in previous seasons. Compound effects, such as a blend of Persian and Roman, are pronounced favorites. Cordette silks are also popular, but you must come in and see this, the greatest showing of silks ever made by this store. Prices that anyone can pay.

In Clerk Robinson's Office.

Yesterday, in Clerk Robinson's office the will of the late Judge Joseph Rogers Paul was admitted to probate. Henry M. Russell was named administrator, giving bond in the sum of $1,000. A marriage license was issued to Frank A. Marlin, aged nineteen, and Isabella Beltzer, aged eighteen, of Pittsburgh.

Threw Vitriol on Her.

A case of vitriol throwing was entered before Squire Fitzpatrick yesterday. Mrs. John Wolfe alleged that Mrs. Ann Blatner threw this liquid on her, in proof of which she exhibited some damaged clothing. None of the stuff touched her face or hands, but it damaged her dress, claimed Mrs. Wolfe. The Belmont mill. The case will come up in Squire Fitzpatrick's court this evening at 7:30 o'clock, and some breezy testimony is promised.

Colored Neighbors Quarrel.

An amusing case was on the boards in Squire Fitzpatrick's sanctum last night. It was one of those neighbors' quarrels, and the parties were colored. The fact of their being colored was directly responsible for the case. Mrs. Ella Mercer was charged with referring to Mrs. Mary Stevens as a "black nigger," and using vile adjectives prefixed to the "nigger." A host of other colored women and one Howard Jackson, all living at the scene of hostilities, in an east end alley, told what they knew and heard, and Jackson's testimony would have won him fame on a minstrel stage, Jackson had figured in justice shop scenes before, for before he took the stand, he announced himself thus: "It is customary to command a witness fees first, so I give you notice of de fact." After an hour's wordy skirmish, Mrs. Mercer was fined $1 and costs, the same totalling $2.10.

WAS A GALA DAY

At the McLure, on the Occasion of Its Reopening, and

THOUSANDS OF WHEELINGITES

VISITED THE BIG HOSTELRY DURING THE AFTERNOON AND EVENING—SOME OF THE CONTRACTORS PROVIDED A BAND CONCERT AS THE STAR ATTRACTION DURING THE EVENING—MANY WHEELING PEOPLE TOOK DINNER.

The McLure House was reopened yesterday at noon, and although there were no formal ceremonies connected with an event that was of great interest to all Wheeling and the traveling public, yet there was a remarkable outpouring of Wheeling people, who found much enjoyment in a personal inspection of the big hostelry.

Several hundred people took dinner, many of the diners being home people. A very elaborate menu was discussed, and the universal verdict was that the service was all that could be desired. The menu was as follows:

Blue Points.
Oysters. Celery. Consomme.
Baked Blue Fish. Italian Sauce.
Sliced Cucumbers. Parisienne Potatoes.
Sliced Tomatoes. Pickled Mangoes.
Queen Olives. Pickled Mangoes.
Radishes. Spanish Onions Sliced.
Lettuce. Leg of Mutton.

Westphalia Ham. Caper Sauce.
Fried Frog Legs. Sauce Tartar.
Soft Shell Crabs. Parsi Trappes.
Brandy Sauce. Roman Punch.
Sweet Breads. with Mushrooms.
Young Turkey, stuffed with Oysters, Cranberry Jelly.

Young Pig, apple sauce. Lamb, mint sauce.
Prime Ribs of Beef. Au Jus.
Chicken Mayonnaise. Corn on Cob.
Sliced Beets. Tomato with Lettuce.
Mashed and Boiled Potatoes.
Candied Sweet Potatoes. Hot Saus.
Charlotte Russe.

Sliced Apple Pie. Lemon Meringue Pie.
Mince Pie. Mince Jelly.
Chocolate Cake. Macaroons.
Lady Fingers. Watermelon. Angel Food.
Imported Swiss. New York Cream.
Brie Neufchatel. Schweizer.
Beetz Crackers. Drummers' Lunch.
Laver Raisins. Fruits. Assorted Nuts.
Tea. Cocoa. Milk. Coffee.

Throughout the afternoon and until a late hour last night the house was crowded. During the evening House & Herrmann, Trimble & Lutz Company, Welty & Company, and other firms that had had contracts in the reconstruction and refitting of the house, hired Meyer's band and orchestra which gave a pleasing concert from the parlor balcony.

When an Intelligencer reporter expressed a desire to know who had first registered at the hotel yesterday, he was informed that Judge Melvin had remained in the building through the entire reconstruction period, and that United States Senator Scott had had apartments for several weeks. The first name appearing on the register is that of W. W. Lang, of Cleveland, who registered on September 22; B. J. Gleason and C. E. Thompson, also of Cleveland, follow on September 23, and yesterday's first autograph was that of C. M. Ackerman, of Washington, D. C.

Federal Court Not in Session.

There was no session of the United States court yesterday, owing to the fact that Judge Jackson had not returned from Parkersburg. The judge got back last evening, and court will resume this morning. The trial of the damage case of Mayor Fred Neining, of Bridgeport, vs. the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, will be taken up again, and after it concludes it is likely the Benwood street car strike cases will be tried.

A Successful School.

The Department of Pharmacy of Scio College has made for itself, in its ten years of existence, a national reputation. At the last June commencement it graduated a class of thirty-four members, the largest in its history. At least three-quarters of the number were engaged, before commencement day. Since then, the principal of the department reports that he has had no less than fifty applicants for graduates to take positions in all portions of the country. Enrollment for the fall term is now in progress, and will continue for some weeks yet. The outlook indicates a large attendance for this year.
